

Warren County Genealogical Society

406 Justice Drive
Lebanon, OH 45036

Summer Program Announcement Warren County Genealogical Society

“Genealogy Workshops”

This “free” event is open to the public. No reservations are necessary, but sign up in the library or by email is appreciated. Everyone is welcome! For more information, contact the Warren County Genealogical Society at 513 695 1144 or wccgs@co.warren.oh.us

WHEN: Wednesdays in June, July & August from 2-3 PM

WHERE: Warren County Genealogical Society Library, 406 Justice Dr., Lebanon, Ohio 45036

ABOUT THE PROGRAM:

Genealogy Workshops

These workshops will focus on a variety of topics such as: starting the genealogy process, gathering records, pictures & stories, interviewing relatives, entering information into a database, obtaining vital records, using the census, finding court records, contacting genealogical societies, etc. Workshops will be tailored to meet the needs of the class.

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS:

Chuck Griffen:

Chuck Griffen has been doing genealogical research for the last 10 to 12 years and has been active in the Warren County Genealogical Society for eight years helping patrons with various aspects of their research, compiling and publishing references, and giving basic research presentations. Chuck is a Mason Resident

Diana Linkous:

Diana Linkous has over 25 years experience working with researching family genealogy. She has expertise with Quaker genealogy. Diana does Warren County research via mail for researchers out of the county and state for the Warren County Genealogical Society. She serves as the President of the Warren County Genealogical Society and is also a member of the Ohio Genealogical Society. Diana lives in Turtlecreek Township.

Dana Palmer:

Dana Palmer is married to a wonderful husband and the mother of one daughter. 15-20 years genealogy experience. Areas of expertise-US, U.K., Denmark records, cemetery research, technology, digital imaging & scrapbooking. Soon to be published 800+ page book about the Brookston IOOF Cemetery, Brookston, White, Indiana. Vice-President of Warren County Genealogical Society. WCCGS web designer. Member of the DUP. Dana lives in Lebanon.